FACTS DESIRED

Is the Townsend plan sound economically?

Is it feasible and workable?

Can its objectives, admittedly good, be attained?

These are questions a number of millions of people, not connected with the movement, would like to have answered.

One would have been justified in thinking when Congress appropriated $50,000 for its probe of the plan that a gigantic conspiracy was being fostered to overthrow the government or that something worse than treason was afoot.

IN CATTLE CARS!

As far as I can see, it is the business of no one outside of the organization how much money is collected and how it is spent. That is a matter of concern only to those who donate their money for the furtherance of the cause. If Dr. Townsend travels by airplane and stops at good hotels, and if the lately resigned secretary did spend $1.00 for breakfast, what of it? I have failed to read or hear of any assertion being made that it was public money. One would hardly demand that the gentlemen journey in cattle cars and subsist on coffee and stink.

WHY WASTE MONEY?

The fact of the matter is that all of these things are extraneous and have no direct or remote bearing on the issues involved.

It did not require $50,000, which could have been better spent in feeding hungry people, to ascertain that the contributions of slot-machine denominations run into a goodly sum. The information could have been obtained simply by asking for it with no attendant expense being involved.

JUST POLITICS

Yet as far as the alleged investigation is concerned the motivating idea seems to be to cast discredit, if possible, on those high in

Dem. Dinner Spoiled By Appointment

PITTSBURGH, April 13.—(Special to Record-Herald).—More than 85 county Democrats gathered at the Jefferson day dinner at a local hotel tonight to pay respects to a great American and pledge Democratic unity.

However, the peace political gathering was constantly disrupted by bitter remarks and sotto voce whisperings over the appointment of Mrs. Hazel Avise as postmistress at Walnut Creek.

When U. S. Deputy Marshal Geo. Sanderson of Richmond was introduced to the gathering, he declared that "there's a nigger in the woodpile" and that he was going to write to Washington about the appointment of Mrs. Avise.

During the course of the dinner the remarks became so pointed and so bitter that A. C. Lang, of Richmond, staunch Democratic war horse, arose and addressed Robert Willis, county central committee chairman from Martinez.

Lang on a point of order, demanded that the chairman immediately instruct the crowd in attendance to keep quiet about the appointment and apply its thoughts to the matter at hand. Willis agreed and peace and calm settled over the meeting.

U. S. Attorney H. H. McPike, of San Francisco, was the speaker of the evening. Avery Moore, Oakland EPIC leader and Tim Cauty, Oakland attorney, also spoke.

Among those introduced during the evening were A. C. Lang, George Sanderson, Harry Burt, Robert Adams, John Alexander, Thomas Kearney, Dan Nozette, Joe Perasso, Miss Emma Pearson, Harold Savallish, William Luis, and Moss Moltoz of Richmond and San Pablo.

Willis acted as toastmaster; Michael Mulcahey was chairman of the evening and Harry Burt, of Richmond, led in community singing.

WOMAN KILLED IN CRASH

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT IS UNDER PROBE

A San Francisco woman was almost instantly killed and her daughter and son-in-law were injured in an automobile accident at Fresno and San Pablo avenues in El Cerrito early this morning.

The dead woman is Mrs. Eleanor Olson, 61, of 4216 Fulton street, San Francisco.

Couple injured.

The injured persons are Mr. and Mrs. H. Wood, both of San Francisco. They sustained severe cuts on the face and head and were treated at Hospital Richmond.

El Cerrito Police Officer Howard Thulin and Deputy Coroner W. F. Drumme were investigating the accident at an early hour this morning.

HIT OIL TRUCK

According to their reports, Mrs. Olson was riding with her son, Carl Hill, of the San Francisco address, south on San Pablo avenue when they crashed into an oil truck making a turn on the intersection. The name of the truck driver couldn't be learned when this

Herbert Dirion, Local Officer, Married At Reno

Patrolman Herbert V. Dirion, member of the Richmond police department yesterday "crossed up" fellow members of the local "Finest" and secretly drove to Reno where he claimed as his bride Mildred Simmons, of Richmond.

Members of the police department knew of the approaching marriage and Dirion had promised one of the officers he could drive her and his bride to Reno and that another member of the force could be best man.

However, yesterday was Dirion's lay off so he and his bride stole a march on friends and went to Reno without any attendants. They returned last night, but refused to stay in Richmond for the evening. Dirion will be back on duty at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The officer has been a member of the police department for almost a year, during which time he has made many friends. His family home is in Walnut Creek where he was born and educated.

His bride is a well known Richmond resident. The couple will make their home in this city.

Drive For Peace Is Proposed At Local Meeting

Richmond will participate in a monster nation-wide demonstration for permanent peace, according to plans made last evening at a meeting of 40 representative Richmond residents at Hotel Carquinez.

The peace movement is sponsored by the Society of Friends (Quakers) and will open on April 21 with a nation-wide broadcast. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and George Lansbury, former British cabinet member, will be the speakers.

The campaign will end on May 18. A mass meeting will be held in Richmond on the evening of May 13. Plans for this event will be announced later.

At last night's meeting Rev. J. Irving Rhoades was named as general chairman of the organization. Officers will be nominated at a meeting to be held Friday. Another meeting will be held soon.

Dr. Milo J. Smith spoke last evening and discussed the plan and its purpose. He stated that the nation must be educated for peace.

NEVILLE CALFEE, son of Attorney and Mrs. Tzar Calfee, is home from the Richmond Cottage Hospital, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis about ten days ago.

FIND NEW MURDER CLUE

FINGERPRINT DISCOVERED BY POLICE

NEW YORK, April 13.—UP

Three smudges on a bedpost—perhaps the fingerprints of a murderer, provided police tonight with the first authentic clue to the identity of the man who attacked and strangled Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton, attractive writer of short stories and novels.

The prints were brought out in the police laboratories in Brooklyn, miles from the exclusive Beekman Place apartment where Mrs. Titterton's body, almost nude, was found dumped into a bathtub with a pink pajama coat around the throat.

NEW PROCESS USED

Use of the silver-plate process, which is especially effective in bringing out fingerprints on wood, was responsible for this clue. Experts immediately began classifying the prints and seemed confident they had opened an avenue that will lead to solution of the puzzling murder.

WAS ATTACKED

Detectives are convinced that whoever committed this crime was a man already acquainted with the woman. Their theory is that he entered the apartment, took out a pistol and forced her to lie down on the bed. Then he bound and gagged her, ripped the clothing off and attacked her. Frightened that she would identify him, he then strangled her and carried the body to the bathtub.

There was one other precious clue which police were guarding jealously. It was a short strand of rope, found under the body, which the murderer used to lash Mrs. Titterton's wrist.

DIES ON BIRTHDAY

Deceased was 64 years of age, the final call coming on his birthday. He had been a resident of San Pablo for over 20 years, and had served as Justice of the Peace since January, 1923. He was held in high esteem, and was one of the best known residents of western Contra Costa. His friends were legion, his administration of justice was fair and impartial. He was endowed with the milk of human kindness to a marked degree, and he was noted for the helping hand that was always extended to those in distress.

SERVING FOURTH TERM

So highly was he thought of that he served for three terms of four years each.

OARP Defended By Speaker At Townsend Meet

A defense of the Townsend organization and its leader was sound last evening by Dr. James Heady and Isaac Lerner at the meeting of Townsend Club No. 1 at W. O. V. Hall.

Dr. Heady declared that the present congressional investigators are "persecutors" and that the committee has no intention of investigating, but that the main purpose of the group is to destroy the Townsend movement.

Dr. Heady stated that the motives and the ideals of Dr. F. E. Townsend are above reproach and that no matter if he were to leave the organization, the movement will continue as "it is bigger than one man."

During the business meeting, presided over by George Black, plans were made to attend a mass meeting in San Pablo tonight.

Next Monday night the club will hold an open meeting at Lincoln auditorium. There will be prominent speakers in attendance.

Duce Troops Take British African Zone

ROME, April 13.—UP—The

Italo-Ethiopian war again hurtled into first place as the major international crisis today when conquering Italian armies seized control of Great Britain's sphere of influence in Ethiopia.

Italian triumphs in East Africa coincided with new truculence in Rome threatening to thwart latest League of Nations peace efforts.

TO RETRACT PLAN

Outstanding developments included:

1.—Premier Benito Mussolini's official newspapers' printed thinly veiled warning that Italy will retract her agreement to discuss Italo-Ethiopian conflict with the league's committee of 13 if the present atmosphere of intimidation continues.

2.—Italian advance columns moved in to dominate the Lake Tana area. The lake is vital to Britain because it feeds the Blue Nile, which waters the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan and large portions of Egypt. Beginning a movement to encircle the lake. Black Shirt forces occupied the Gorgora peninsula, jutting far into the water.

to accede to demands of the Contra Costa Democratic central committee, Senator William G. McAdoo has recommended to the Senate the appointment of Mrs. Hazel Avise, Republican holdover, to the Walnut Creek postmastership, according to word received here today. He also recommended the appointment of George German to the Port Chicago postmastership. German has the endorsement of the Central committee.

McAdoo's nomination of Mrs. Avise climaxes a long and bitter battle on the part of the Democratic central committee to have Harry Hoffman, one of four other candidates, appointed to the Walnut Creek postmastership. Feeling ran so high at the last Democratic committee meeting here that a demand was framed for "leaders" of the party to appear at the committee's next meeting to explain why the central committee's recommendations have been ignored.

Simultaneously with the announcement from Washington of McAdoo's action there was released the standing in civil service test of Mrs. Avise's opponents for the postmastership. Lyman Stoddard was first, Thomas Reed was second, E. B. Bradley was third, and Harry Hoffman was fourth.

Political observers declare that throughout the months of political argument the fight was centered between Hoffman and Mrs. Avise, who has been acting postmaster since the expiration of her term in December, largely because of the committee's insistence upon Hoffman's appointment. Mrs. Avise has served nearly eight years.

Profit From Bay Span To Be Discussed

Methods by which Contra Costa county can capitalize on the completion of the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge are to be discussed at a meeting Wednesday noon at Paul's Place in Martinez of representatives of every community in the county.

Walter Helms of Richmond will be chairman of the meeting, and Harry Barnes of Martinez secretary. Discussion will be opened by Fred Parr of Richmond. Martinez will be represented by President Carl Brown of that chamber of commerce and Barnes.

In addition to discussing means by which the county may profit from construction of the bridge, the meeting will outline a comprehensive program for county participation in the San Francisco exposition. This will probably include an exhibit at the exposition and attractive literature on the county.

EMPLOYERS ARE HIT BY ROOSEVELT

BALTIMORE, Md., April 13.

UP.—President Roosevelt promised the nation's youth tonight that he would continue his policy of "action" in their behalf and he promptly called upon industry to reduce working hours and maintain wages to increase employment.

In the presence of prominent state and national party leaders, Mr. Roosevelt told thousands of anti-fascist young Democrats gathered at an old time political rally that the hour had come when the nation's youth must take action to prevent the kind of economic disaster that has befallen Germany and Italy.

He pointed out that the New Deal was seeking to extend the school age in all states to reduce the amount of child labor, and hinted at the thousands of jobs which could be made available to the young if persons over the age of 15 could be required to attend school.

Dope Is Upset By
Blackface Baldwin

Never count out an experienced greyhound like Blackface Baldwin in a seven-day match field. For the four-year-old greyhound himself made an impressive debut in the match field last night at the El Cerrito track. The crowd, which was estimated at 10,000, was well pleased with the performance of the greyhound. Baldwin, who was owned by Paul Sutherland, was the only greyhound to win two straight races and was beaten from the second race into match fields on the third official start of his career. By himself, closed at 13 to 10, was crowded out late, and closed second for third place. Blackface Baldwin had the speed of a rocket when he turned the future in 29 2/5 seconds, rewarded $12.40.

Two form dogs, Tiger of Jim Treadwell and Kismet, and Joy Girl, a L. Green winner, made a double option that added $12.40.

PRISON BOARD POLITICS ARE ARGUES MADE

SACRAMENTO, April 13.—UP—Charges of "politics" and "wire pulling" clouded the prospects for an early appointment of a warden to succeed Court Smith at Folsom prison today.

Mark Lee Megladdery, Jr., secretary to Governor Frank E. Merriam, insisted that neither the governor nor himself had taken any part in reported efforts to place certain candidates in the job. Warden Smith leaves Folsom next week to succeed James B. Holoban as warden of San Quentin.

"Politics is creeping into California prison administration," Frank C. Sykes, San Francisco member of the prison board, asserted in a statement today. "I do not believe that with our prison problems as they are that politics should be injected into the selection of a warden."

Sykes revealed that he had backed Clarence Larkin, now captain of the guards at Folsom, for the warden's post because he believed in promoting a trained man, and because he considered Larkin to be free of political control.

Megladdery said: "The governor is not mixing into that affair at all. He is leaving the appointment up to the board of prison directors. Personally I'm not favoring interests of any applicant for the position. It looks to me like the supporters of some of the candidates are trying to play politics."

Clyde C. Plummer, former Los Angeles police captain who now is an investigator in the office of District Attorney Byron Pitts of Los Angeles, was said to have the support of Senator James Allen, Yreka, and Edward L. Abbott, Santa Barbara. Others purportedly active in his behalf were Joe Rosenthal and Ralph Clock of Southern California.

A. R. O'Brien, Ukiah, a member of the prison board, was said to have favored former U. S. Marshal Fred Esola of San Francisco for the warden's job. Judge T. N. Harvey, Bakersfield, chairman of the board, was understood not to have committed himself to any candidate.

Smith's secretary, Barnett Huse, has been named temporary warden pending a permanent appointment.

Right Of Way Judgment Cut

Superior Judge John D. Murphy of Alameda county has held that a judgment of $100,000 for a right of way through the property of the Tilden Lumber Company at the foot of University avenue in Berkeley was too high and reduced the award to $65,000 it was learned yesterday.

The new judgment has been accepted by the lumber company which was represented by Attorney Thomas M. Carlson and Robert V. Collins of Richmond.

The jury granted the $100,000 award after listing the appraisals ranging from $26,000 to $160,000.

Wind's Fury Brings Death

TORNADOES SWEEPING through half a dozen Southern States brought death to hundreds and caused untold havoc to property. Above is a scene in the South Georgia city of Cordale, of about 6,000 population, where 1,000 were homeless. The Red Cross said the high winds of a Spring storm cut a swath three blocks wide and 70 miles long here.

ELCERRITO NEWS

EGG HUNT PROVIDES FUN FOR CHILDREN

Hundreds of El Cerrito children in gay Easter garments looked like butterflies as they overran the lots north of city hall seeking the Easter eggs the bunnies had hidden there at the behest of El Cerrito firemen.

Great excitement prevailed of course for there was not a gorgeous golden egg to be found by some lucky bright-eyed searcher?

And sure enough, that golden prize was discovered within a few minutes by young Miss Ella Nicoletti, who took the first prize for her find and chose a big basket of Easter candy. The next prize was won by Lois Fay and was a lovely pink rabbit, maybe the one that laid all the colored eggs for all anyone knows, and baskets of eggs were presented to the following boys and girls for finding the largest numbers of eggs: Ernest Gilmore, Dickie Geer, Vernon Hardisty, Phil Garey, Richard Botini, Victor Vandon, Eleanor Howie, Junior Cormick, Jack Sias, and Milton Davis.

And for the tiny tots under three there were special prizes of Easter eggs and toy rabbits and these went to Geraldine Febbe, Pearl Scott and Ardis Jorgenson. Then there were hundreds of bags of candy that had been provided by the fire department so that no El Cerrito kiddie would go away empty handed even if he failed to find any of the hidden eggs laid by the bunnies. After the hunt was ended all the children lined up and as they passed the committee members were each given a nice bag of the candy eggs, and all voted the Easter party a grand success.

Ed Gagnon of the local fire department was chairman of the committee in charge of the egg hunt. He was assisted by Al Baxter, Chief O. A. Burnett, Roy Richardson, S. S. Hudson, Don Seawright and Mervin Bellis, members of the committee, and by all the other fire boys that stood around to lend a hand.

Chiappe Makes Final Appeal To E. C. Voters

Anthony J. Chiappe concluded his campaign yesterday for the office of City Clerk of El Cerrito with encouraging assurances that he would be successful at the election to be held today.

Because of his well-known qualifications for that office, his strength has been steadily increasing, his friends declare, and they point to the fact that his education has been along lines that especially fit him for the important duties of city clerk.

Following his work in the elementary and high schools, and two years of college training, he acquired a valuable experience in clerical and accounting work by specializing in that particular field.

In his opening announcement of his candidacy, he said:

"I have entered this contest because I know myself fully qualified and capable, and have reason to believe that my many friends in the community know my character well enough to entrust the office in my hands."

Mr. Chiappe is a home owner and taxpayer in El Cerrito, and with his family has been a resident of that city for a number of years.

Delegates Are Nominated By K. C. Council

M. M. Dowling, head of the Knights of Columbus, was elected delegate to the state convention at San Diego to be held May 17, 18 and 19 when the lodge convened last night at Memorial hall. E. L. Woodfield was elected alternate. Quarterly communion will be held in the near future at Pinole. Thomas Smith heads the committee in charge. He will be assisted by J. J. Claeys, John Loftus, Matthew Quill, Robert Reid and E. H. Woghtel.

A program will be presented at the April 27 meeting.

Rancho Men To Not Vote Today

A formal hearing on charges that 26 persons were illegally registered for the Rancho San Pablo was held at the office of Attorney Homer Patterson yesterday afternoon with Harold Jacoby, deputy, representing the district attorney's office.

Although the men claimed that they worked at the place and considered it as their place of residence and therefore registered from there, they agreed not to exercise the right of franchise at the El Cerrito election today.

The complainants were S. C. Masterson, Jr., candidate for city clerk and W. D. Stark, Charles Kaufman and L. A. McNabb, running for places on the council. Kaufman seemed to be very much exercised over the fact that the men were registered as Republicans and sought to emphasize this point at the hearing. He threatened to take the matter before the grand jury.

Jury Fee Deposit Ordered By Court

MARTINEZ, April 13.—Seeking to prohibit "last minute" calling off of jury trials, which puts the county to extra expense, Superior Judge T. D. Johnston and A. F. Bray have made an order, effective April 15, requiring deposit of jury fees in advance.

The judges say that frequently attorneys call off jury trials a day before scheduled hearing, thus necessitating emergency stop orders.

HEREY TO YOUR HEALTH

ULCERS OF THE STOMACH AND DUODENUM

For some unexplained reason, ulcers of the stomach and duodenum are much more common among men than among women. The ratio is probably as high as 3 to 1.

One of the unusual features of the disease is the length of time the patient delays before seeking help. The average patient will have been troubled by the symptoms of ulcer formation for at least a year or two before he takes a decisive step to find out what is wrong. It is very common to find patients who have worried along with the symptoms over a period of 10 years before they go to a physician for advice.

There are several reasons which explain why this delay occurs. In the first place, it seems that the patient becomes so familiar with his symptoms that he takes them for granted and is not alarmed by them. This is one case where "familiarity breeds contempt." It is simply because the patient is so accustomed to digestive distress, that he does not give the symptoms the same respect he would if it were flat on his back. The second reason is the fact that the patient does not suspect that he has a stomach or duodenal ulcer and thinks that he has indigestion.

In the third place, as a general rule, an X-ray picture is made at least in the early stages, and the patient therefore has no conclusive evidence of the real nature of his trouble. In the fourth place, the patient is able to go on working. Because he is up and around, he does not give his discomfort the same respect he would if it were flat on his back. The third reason is the fact that the patient does not suspect that he has a stomach or duodenal ulcer and thinks that he has indigestion.

Ordinarily, the patient has periods when his pain is followed by periods when his symptoms grow worse. Because the periods alternate in this way it is easy for him to believe that the condition may be becoming more serious.

The outstanding symptom of a stomach ulcer is pain. The pain comes on several hours after eating and is relieved by taking antacids, cutting, cramping, etc. Usually the patient finds out by the trial and error method that he can relieve the pain immediately by taking food or by drinking water or milk. He may have learned to rely upon glass of whisky water to which baking soda has been added, or some of the other remedies of the patient's own making. This practice of eating food and relief is a bad habit, for it is a sign that the patient is in the pain, the patient may be bothered by nausea and by a general feeling. Eventually, he may be troubled by vomiting.

The type of patient most likely to develop ulcers is of the nervous "high-strung" type, who has been under a prolonged strain of some kind. The tension induced by brain work of an exacting nature, by financial worry, or by a romantic disaster, may serve as an important predisposing cause of ulcer formation. When there is already present the underlying nervous tendency and to this is added tension and unwise habits of eating, the symptoms which are characteristic of the ulcer appearance of an ulcer, are very likely to develop.

I will be glad to have you write me regarding any question you want answered on the subject of stomach or duodenal ulcers. Many times, when the information desired is of a general nature, I am able to provide it without first examining the patient. Feel free to request an answer to any question which has been bothering you. Send your letter to me in care of this newspaper and enclose one large, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents. If you would like to receive my articles on STOMACH ULCERS, you are welcome to them, providing you comply with the rules just outlined.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: Henry H. wants to know: "Which of the following is best: walking, golf, tennis, dancing, fishing or hunting?"

Answer: Instead of limiting your activities to any one very few interests, all of the activities mentioned are wholesome. A certain amount of pleasurable amusement is undoubtedly beneficial in promoting relaxation. Any type of healthful recreation is of value in keeping the individual from becoming too tense. In fact, the fact that activity is of great importance in this age because of the fact that so many people work inside and are thus deprived of fresh air and exercise. A moderate amount of recreation is a good health investment.

(Take Care of Your Eyes)

Question: J. L. writes: "I have been troubled by headaches and I must avoid bright light because it makes my eyes hurt. I have discontinued reading because it makes my symptoms worse."

Answer: It is impossible for me to tell you definitely what is wrong without examining you, but the symptoms which you describe indicate that you may require glasses. Eyestrain which causes eye fatigue would be sufficient to cause a headache. I strongly advise that you have your eyes tested.

(Sustaining)

Question: Diana D. writes: "I am tired of my eyes. I have an attack of sneezing this thing in the morning. Why?"

Answer: The most likely cause is chronic catarrh which produces a nasal irritation and causes you to sneeze in the morning. Of course, there is a possibility that you may have a mild case of hay fever. A local examination of the nose would reveal a bit as to the cause of the symptoms.

FIREMEN TO HOLD BALL ON SATURDAY

Final plans have been completed for the grand annual ball to be given by the Richmond Fire Department on East Shore park Saturday evening. A record crowd is anticipated.

O. W. Fowler is general chairman of the affair; R. A. Paasch is in charge of tickets and S. W. Percher has charge of publicity.

The dance hall has been decorated and flowers will be presented to every lady in attendance.

Members of the committee wish to thank the following merchants who have contributed prizes: Johnson's, New Deal Coffee Shop, Allyn's Men's Store and Schlanke's Jewelry and Gift shop.

Herb Miller and his orchestra will provide the music.

ECLIPSE LODGE WILL HONOR DISTRICT CHIEF

Routine business matters were discussed last evening when the Eclipse lodge of Odd Fellows held its meeting at the clubrooms.

Next Monday night District Deputy T. L. Wells of Martinez will pay his official visit. There will be degree work.

A. W. Hartung presided last evening.

WASHINGTON P. T. A. WILL INSTALL TODAY

Washington P. T. A. will hold installation of officers today at a meeting at the school. Mrs. W. S. Poore, Council president, will install the officers.

Mrs. Ed Saunders will preside over the opening session at two o'clock. The installation will follow.

Friends Mourn The Passing Of Former Resident

The many friends of Isaac F. Schultz, former resident of Richmond for 25 years, will regret to learn of his death in Sonoma county following an illness of long duration, his passing being immediately due to an apoplectic stroke, suffered about five weeks ago.

Deceased, aged 66 years, was well and favorably known here, particularly among the earlier residents of the town. For many years he was employed by the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company and the Santa Fe, but retired from active work several years ago on account of ill health. He moved from here to Sebastopol six years ago and two years ago moved to Santa Rosa.

Surviving are the widow Lydia A. of Santa Rosa, a brother Aylott Schultz of this city, a daughter, a sister and three brothers in Missouri, and a niece, Mrs. Nellie Atwood of this city.

Brief funeral services will be held at the Sunset View crematory Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Hamilton & Eger, Santa Rosa funeral directors, in charge of the arrangements.

CIVIC CENTER CLUB WILL NAME OFFICERS

Following luncheon at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon a business meeting of the Civic Center Club will be held at which election of officers will take place and other important business transacted.

An urgent request for all members to be present at the clubhouse on Twenty-second street, at the time mentioned, has been issued by the presiding officer.

DINNER DANCE IS PLANNED BY ONETAH TRIBE

Final preparations for a dinner dance to be held on April 25 at the clubrooms were made last evening when the Onetah Tribe of Red Men met at the clubrooms. The affair will be held in conjunction with the Pochontas.

Reports were heard on plans for the picnic to be held on May 24. Adoption of a class of candidates will be held in the near future.

J. P. Smith presided over the meeting.

LONGFELLOW P. T. A. WILL MEET TODAY

A meeting of the Longfellow P. T. A. will be held today at Room 421 of the school.

The executive board will meet at 1:30 and the business meeting will be held at 2:30. Plans for the year's work will be discussed.

Mrs. Bert Hall, president, has urged all members to be in attendance.

Games Played In Tennis Tournay Saturday, Sunday

Here are the results of the games played Saturday and Sunday in the Davis tennis tournament:

B. Peterson defeated C. Smith 6-4, 0-6, 6-4; Charles Foss defeated Frank Blomberg by default; and Fred Childs defeated Pendleton 6-2, 6-2.

Gertrude Easton defeated Patricia Winchloe, 0-6, 6-0, 6-0. Margery McAllister defeated Ruth Peterson by default; James Hurley defeated Ted Dolan 6-1, 6-0, Bert Peterson defeated Henry Koss, 6-1, 7-5, and Fred Childs defeated Charles Foss 6-1, 4-6, 6-3.

The matches will be continued next Saturday and Sunday.

Pair To Face Liquor Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—UP.—The cases of Bruno Lucht, and Adella Balestra will be heard Wednesday, April 15. U. S. Commissioner E. E. Williams said today.

The pair were arrested Saturday by Federal agents near Santa Rosa and were charged with operating a 7000 gallon still and conspiracy.

Bail for Lucht was set at $10,000 while bail for Adella Balestra was reduced from $10,000 to $2,500.

Grierson Funeral Held On Monday

Rev. J. A. TenBroeck officiated yesterday at funeral services held from the Wilson and Kratzer chapel for the late Miss Mary Grierson. Interment was in Sunset View cemetery.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Two Doctors Are Often Better Than a Single Diagnostician

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

ADVICE through the column is always prescribed and especially when a correspondent says that he or she is under the care of a physician. Their own physician cannot help knowing much more about their trouble than I do, but the longer I practice medicine, the more I am convinced of the value of consultation. Two men of equal knowledge may see a whole train of symptoms in a different light, and a frank discussion of their views cannot but be helpful. If I knew the name and address of your physician I should write direct to him and offer my suggestions. If the physician tells his physician what I suggest, I hope he will take it into consideration. That is the way to get the best of it. That is the way to get the best of it.

I have been under the care of a physician and taking care of myself but has not improved. She is very nervous, tired easily and has almost continuously through her chest, across her back, with occasional sharp pains between her ribs, and a dull ache across the shoulders.

Fears Tuberculosis

She fears that she has tuberculosis, but an X-ray of the chest proved that she had nothing of that kind. She is only a young woman and should be in her prime, but sleeps poorly and is anything but well. She does not indicate that her doctor has found any pelvic trouble so we can rule that out. She may be having muscular rheumatism but does not speak of any throat or tooth trouble that could be causing infection. Her story gives it to me suggests that there is some pressure on some of the spinal nerves or a strain on the spinal muscles.

It may come from some maladjustment of the bones of the spine or from faulty posture caused by a curvature. My advice would be to search for sources of local infection such as teeth, tonsils or intestinal toxemia. Then make a careful X-ray of the spine, searching for any trouble ever so slight which might be greatly improved by some support such as a brace or belt. This would correct the faulty posture. These small irregularities may cause a vast amount of pain and discomfort.

She Isn't Satisfied

Mrs. M. S. of Indiana, wants some suggestion about what to do. She has a physician, who has helped her very much but she isn't satisfied. I may be treading on dangerous ground, but I beg her physician to take my suggestions charitably. Mrs. S. has been suffering severely from colitis. Much pain and distress, with loss of appetite and sleep. Her physician has corrected this trouble to a great extent. So much so that she now has a good appetite and has gained in weight and strength. She says she has developed a severe attack of neuritis and sciatica.

It has been diagnosed as a result of the long-continued colitis, and I heartily agree with this. Improvement in the intestinal condition should help the sciatica, but the infection is in the nerve and helps to perpetuate it. I can only suggest to her physician several methods of treatment.

First, in the line of internal medicine, I should advise the administration of ten grains of sodium iodide in a glass of water with meals. Locally, use diathermy, which is electrical heat which penetrates into the deep nerves and the surrounding tissues. If that does not help or is not advisable, her doctor can inject the nerve with pure alcohol, which frequently gives prompt relief.

Red Hair In Vogue

The vogue of red hair means we are going to need more henna. There are also the autumn dyes that will produce a satisfactory shade of red hair, but the favorite tint will be the Egyptian henna.

Girls have always felt safe in using this coloring, as it is not a permanent dye and gradually wears off. Each shampoo removes some of the coloring, but it can always be touched up and renewed.

There is another kind of henna that we hope will not be confused with this vegetable coloring. It is the compound henna. This hair coloring is really not a vegetable henna coloring at all, but a powdered dye made up of chemicals and some henna or vegetable stain, and its action is more like a dye than henna.

Heifetz Lives Down Being Prodigy

By TALBOT LAKE

JASCHA HEIFETZ has successfully lived down the fact that he was a child prodigy! Let anyone cast a glance at the fate which rules the destinies of most precocious children: a few years of triumph and then—obscurity. Starting out as one of the most remarkable cases of precocity on record, Heifetz is today, in the eyes of the world, at the very peak of his career. In the eyes of Jascha Heifetz there are still higher peaks to climb.

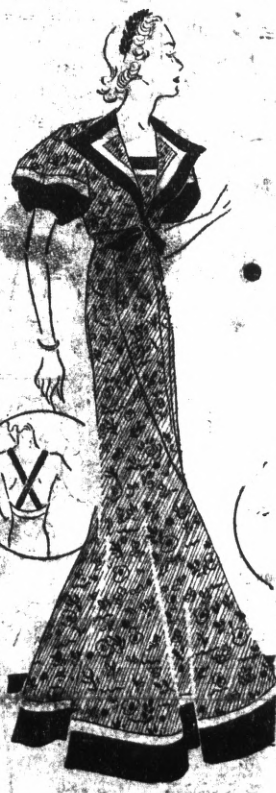

His international fame dates from his Berlin debut when he was eleven years old. In Russia, eight years before this, he had begun to receive regular instruction on a quarter-size fiddle with his father as teacher. This same small violin was his only instrument until 1907 when he was sent to the Imperial Conservatory in Petrograd to become the youngest pupil of the late Leopold Auer. Seventeen years later when he returned to Russia at the invitation of the Soviet government he discovered this first violin and came home with his treasure, which he played to enormous audiences in Vienna and followed with tours of Germany and Scandinavia. Four years after his return to Russia, when food rations were down to a quarter of a pound per person, mother, father, two sisters and Jascha gathered together their belongings and left their homeland.

In a third-class compartment together with sixteen other refugees, the Heifetz family traveled across Siberia, and via Japan, Hawaii and San Francisco, they finally reached New York.

On October 27, 1917, the curly-headed youth walked out for the first time on the stage of Carnegie Hall. On that evening there was a highly critical audience, among which were Fritz Kreisler, Mischa Elman, Godowsky and Jascha's mother waiting to hear the sixteen-year-old boy show what he could do with a fiddle. That debut is now history, for at the end of the first number there was recognition that here was genius. But Mother Heifetz took her son aside to remind him: "Your statistics were not good enough."

Since that time Heifetz has circled the globe four times and has, between world-tours, grossed continents and oceans.

FOR JUNIORS

The dress above, designed for juniors is fashioned of linen, the formal costume in printed linen, the background in aqua shade, the pattern in yellow, brick, white, brown and orchid. Solid color borders make an effective trimming, and when the jacket is removed, a formal gown is revealed.

New Rouge May Be Needed This Season

By JACQUELINE HUNT

SHOPPING for cosmetics is exciting business these sunny spring days. You know that the right shades of rouge, powder and lipstick will give you a new complexion to make your costumes all the more becoming. New clothes—new coiffure—new figure—then a new face! No wonder you feel like a glamorous princess seeking for romance!

Does your powder now give your skin a dull, velvety finish? Does it harmonize so well with your complexion tones, that no one can be sure that you have used it? If not, try a new shade or different texture to give your skin that young, springtime look.

The only way to determine the right powder is to try several of them on your skin. Choose the two shades that seem most nearly right for your skin. Examine the boxes. Cleanse your face thoroughly and apply your powder base.

If you use one, now powder one side of your face with one shade and the other half with the other shade. Take a hand mirror and stand in the sunlight and then in artificial light, see which is most becoming.

If one side of your face looks over-powdered the texture may not be right for you—it may be too light in color. If your skin looks dull, then the powder may be too dark or too lifeless.

Many girls make the mistake of using a powder that is too light for their skins. As a result the true skin color shows through, giving an uneven, blotchy appearance. Most girls—and women—of the medium or brunette type should use a warm shade of rosy beige or ochre face powder. The rachel and peach shades are for only the fairest complexions.

The whole effect of your makeup this spring should be naturally soft. Your rouge must be a soft shade that matches your own natural flush and you must use it lightly. Now is the time to go back to the warm russet and terra cotta shades of daffodils and tulips, big baskets of colored Easter eggs for the egg-eating marathon and our prettiest china will delight family and guests.

I hope there are guests—Easter is a grand occasion for entertaining. In my home there are always guests for Easter breakfast, since there are so many delicious dishes that can be prepared if one gets up early and breakfasts late.

Speaking of Style

Pleats Back And Ruffles This Season

By IRENE VAIL

New York—In some of the most exciting imports—and the spring clothes are exciting—the pleated technique is adopted for sleeves. Almost everything is happening to sleeves. No wonder they are swelling out with their own importance. While it is true that short sleeves are looked forward to, it is not true that they have actually arrived. It's well to look at it this way—either have short sleeves or very worthwhile long ones.

Women are faced with the problem of keeping pleated skirts in order, no small job. If it isn't ironed, pleating, as a means of decoration, is gaining in prestige in the designing of coats and wraps.

The successful invasion of knife pleats, pleats have been steadily gaining in favor. Now comes a very wide circular skirt, not pleated this time, with bands of miller's ribbons encircling the hem, a charming fashion you will agree.

I have even noticed dresses with ruffles around the hem and there is a growing acceptance of the evening, as well as day time frock, under which is glimpsed petticoat ruffles.

The box pleated ruche turns up occasionally at the hemline and some chiffon dresses are assuming the handkerchief points of yesterday.

In gadding about where clothes are significant one sees many halter necklines. The backless bodice continues to be a general preference and the addition of a wisp of a circular cape of tulle is a charming notion.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "The etiquette book says that a man orders for a woman in a restaurant. Does this mean that she has no say in the matter?"—Suzanne.

ANSWER: A man may consult a woman's taste in the matter of food and he may make suggestions. Finally, however, it is the woman who decides. Then the man repeats to the waiter what she has chosen. It is much simpler when only one person is in contact with the waiter.

As the one who will pay the check, the man is the logical person to assume the responsibility of ordering.

With Dignity and Charm

Royal blue silk tulle, embroidered with black and white chenille dots, forms the yoke, sleeves, and the deep-set back in this smart afternoon frock of black silk crepe. The shiny black straw hat is trimmed with black and white crepe quilts and ribbon.

Easter Menus Give Chance For Culinary Delight

FOR all of us Easter is a joyous day of feasting. Lighten menu limitations give way to lavishness and artistry in our culinary achievements. And our tables should echo the gay springtime note in its decorations.

A centerpiece of daffodils and tulips, big baskets of colored Easter eggs for the egg-eating marathon and our prettiest china will delight family and guests.

I hope there are guests—Easter is a grand occasion for entertaining. In my home there are always guests for Easter breakfast, since there are so many delicious dishes that can be prepared if one gets up early and breakfasts late.

Strawberry Omelet
Wash and hull 1 pint strawberries and cut the larger ones in halves with a sharp knife. Do not crush the berries. Sprinkle with 1/3 cup sugar and let stand while you make the omelet. Beat 6 eggs, 4 tablespoons cream, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon sugar until thoroughly blended. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a hot skillet and pour in the egg mixture. Turn down the flame and with a spatula raise the edges of the omelet and tip the pan so the uncooked mixture will run underneath. Then spread the strawberries over half of the omelet, fold over and remove to a hot platter. Garnish with whole berries and crisp, golden curls of bacon.

Roast Baby Lamb
Trim and wipe the leg of lamb and then rub with this savory mixture: 1/2 cup salt pork, 1 small onion, 2 tablespoons parsley and 1 clove garlic all chopped very fine and moistened with 1 tablespoon brandy. Sear the lamb in a very hot oven for 30 minutes. Turn the meat and sprinkle with a little more brandy, pepper and salt and return to the oven. Lower the heat and after 10 minutes, add 1 cup meat broth or hot water and roast for a hour longer. When the broth is added, arrange peeled new potatoes around the roast. Serve with a salad of spring greens—watercress, endive, hearts of escarole and lettuce.

Place 2 tablespoons butter in a frying pan and place over low heat until melted. Add 3/4 cup cream and break 6 eggs, one at a time, and slip into the pan. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Cover and cook slowly until the whites are nearly set. Sprinkle with 1/3 cup grated Swiss cheese and continue cooking until the eggs are firm. Serve on crisp buttered toast with the sauce in the pan.

French Ice Cream
Blend 2/3 cup sweetened condensed milk and 1/2 cup water and heat in a double boiler. Separate the whites and yolks of 2 eggs and beat the yolks until creamy. Pour the hot milk over them, stirring constantly. Return to the double boiler and cook for two minutes. Cool. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup sherry wine and the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. When thoroughly blended add a few drops of red vegetable coloring and 1 cup cream, whipped until stiff. Turn into the freezing tray of an automatic refrigerator or pack in salt and ice. When the mixture has frozen to a stiff mush, turn into a mixing bowl and beat for 2 minutes. Then return to the freezing tray or mold and continue to freeze until firm.

Strawberry Delight
Dissolve 1 package strawberry flavored gelatin in 2 cups warm water. Chill and when slightly thickened fold in 1 cup fresh strawberries, sliced and sprinkled with powdered sugar. Turn into mold and chill until firm. Turn out and garnish with whole strawberries and whipped cream.

New Light On Moths
How insects literally digest their own bodies and then build them up again into new forms while they are changing from larvae into moths is being investigated by Prof. I. V. Taylor, of the Department of Biology in Brown University, whose 10 years of research have already shed new light on this little-understood field of insect physiology.

Experimenting with between 8,000 and 10,000 pupae of the bee-moth, a wax-eating insect about half an inch long, Prof. Taylor and his students have made a detailed study of chemical changes occurring throughout the pupal stage and explained today how these processes are "strangely like actual self-digestion of the entire organism."

All of the varied chemical changes, Prof. Taylor found, are closely linked to the rearrangement of the insect's cells as it turns from a larva into a moth in seven and one-half days, locked in.

MODERN WOMEN

Girls and Parents Should Investigate All Marriage Candidates

By MARIAN MAY'S MARTIN

CONSIDERING the seriousness of marriage it is strange that girls seem willing to enter into it with men about whom they know practically nothing except that they are attracted to them. That is not and never was sufficient reason for marriage. When will girls get a little sense about the men they marry. I am amazed at the lack of information the average girl has, or tries to get, about the man she marries. Here is a revealing letter.

You and Your Child

Love Must Make Child Feel Secure

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

BETTY, come out of there. Come and sit beside mother. The child pretended not to hear. "Come here at once. Mother won't love you, if you don't obey her." The little girl responded.

"There is nothing but junk and dust behind that cellar door. See how you've dirtied your hands!" Betty examined her hands. "Come, let's wash them." The child hesitated.

"Betty, do as I say," mother warned. "or I won't love you." Betty let herself be led to the bathroom.

"Now you're a good little girl, and I love you." The child regarded her mother shyly but with gratitude, and a stroke on the head was her final reward. She nestled close to her mother now, perfectly contented with being loved.

As the result of such training, no wonder the child has a habit of asking unexpectedly, "Do you love me, mommy?" "Does daddy love me?" There is a question of doubt in her mind. It worries her that she may not be loved. She needs constantly to be reassured that she is.

Mother's answer, "Of course, we love you when you are good," is far from satisfying. It again raises the question of behavior versus parental love. This is very confusing to the child, involving as it does two separate departments of loving.

To feel a sense of security and self-confidence a child has to be sure of his parents' love. Without this assurance he feels lost and lonely and his behavior is bound to be a case at 30 degrees centigrade.

If she's the right sort she will not take it out on you or any other honest man. She will acknowledge that she was very definitely to blame for not doing at least as much research work on the subject of the man she plans to marry as she might have done before she accepted a position.

You probably think that this girl, or any girl, is protected from such a situation by having a family. It does not necessarily follow. Parents are often lax in looking up the credentials of the men who want to marry their daughters. Sometimes it comes from an eagerness to get the child married.

Husbands Hard to Get

Why this seems of such importance that everything else is secondary is difficult to understand. I suppose reasons vary. Husbands are hard to get. Probably parents regard them as something like the gift-horse and operate accordingly. The returned daughter presents as difficult a problem to cope with as returned goods. What to do with and about her is no easy problem to solve.

As a matter of fact the mother or father of a girl who allows that girl to contract a marriage with a man about whom they know nothing is committing a crime compared to which felony is a joke. It is the duty of the parent, to scrutinize the situation and the applicant from every angle. No young man with a clean record could, or would, take offense at such a procedure. When the check-up is up to the girl herself it is disturbing but quite as essential.

The right sort of man would be as eager as she could possibly be to help ease her mind about him. If he had a grain of common sense he would know that she wanted to find him okay.

Mrs. Martin will be glad to answer in this column questions of general interest. Mrs. Martin cannot reply individually to every correspondent. Names will not be published. Address her care of this paper.

Authority On U. S. History Is Taken By Death

CAMPBELL, Cal., April 13.—Arrangements tonight were completed to ship the body of Professor T. M. Marshall, nationally-known authority on American and Southwest history, to St. Louis, Mo., for interment.

Marshall died at his home here late yesterday. He had been ill for over three years. He is survived by his wife, Vesta Woodbury Marshall, and two sons, Willis W. and Leroy, both in St. Louis, Mo.

During his teaching career Marshall served at the faculties of the Universities of California, Idaho, Colorado, Washington, Texas, Stanford, Harvard and Washington D. C. at St. Louis.

Freddie's Mother In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, April 13.—UP—Mrs. Lillian "Ma" Bartholomew, elusive mother of curly-headed Freddie Bartholomew, 11 year old film star, arrived unexpectedly in town tonight presumably to collect her $1500 a week son from his aunt—an American guardian—and promptly went into hiding.

With Freddie also in hiding, the great Bartholomew mystery, which has stretched a family squabble over two hemispheres, was wound up like a cat in a yarn basket.

Prior to retreating to the home of friends, Mrs. Bartholomew visited the British consulate and local attorney who issued a terse statement branding the nation-wide search for her as "publicity."

Trial Of Pair Again Delayed

SACRAMENTO, April 13.—UP—Federal Judge Michael J. Roche today continued until next Wednesday trial of Percy J. Altender and Ray Handley, charged with liquor smuggling and the shooting of two prohibition agents near Bowens Landing, Mendocino county, in 1933.

Altender, 30, was arrested on an isolated Placer county ranch after a three year search when Col. George Seaver of the U. S. alcohol tax unit led a posse of four agents to the spot two weeks ago.

5 MONGOLS ARRESTED AS RED SPIES

TOKYO, April 13—UP—

Tense conditions on the Manchukuo-Siberian frontier, described by neutral observers as approximating a state of war, were tightened further today with a new clash between Japanese and red troops.

Frontier fighting followed drastic action by the Manchukuo authorities at Hsinking, their capital, in arresting five Mongols holding important posts in the Manchukuo government.

NEW FIGHTING
They were charged with conspiring with the Russians and supplying vital information to Soviet military intelligence officers.

The high command of Japan's Kwantung or continental army at Hsinking announced that new fighting occurred on the border when a detachment of 40 Soviet soldiers, attached to the Red Far Eastern army, fired on a Japanese detachment of 20 new hulin in eastern Manchukuo.

Border fighting between the opposing units continued for half an hour before Japanese reinforcements arrived and forced the Soviet troops to withdraw.

NO CASUALTIES MENTIONED
There was no mention of casualties in the official communiqué.

Mongols arrested at Hsinking included Lin Sheng, governor of North Heilung province, an integral part of Manchukuo.

Lin Sheng was Manchukuo's chief delegate to the Manchukuo conference which discussed border disputes between Manchukuo and outer Mongolia. He is a leading Mongol patriot.

WAR-LIKE TALK

MOSCOW, April 13—UP—While new Far East frontier clashes further strained Soviet-Japanese relations today, Alexander Kosarev delivered a warlike speech before the All Union Congress of the Communist Youth Organization.

"Communist youths are ready to volunteer for the Red army," he thundered in the feature address of the congress.

"In case of attack our planes and tanks, plus the interference of German, Japanese and Polish workers would give us complete victory."

authority in the crusade, and make no effort to find out if Dr. Townsend has an idea that would prove beneficial and be a factor in adjusting our social system, which we all readily agree, is badly out of balance.

Why haven't financiers, economists and others in a position to pass sound judgment on the proposition been summoned before the Black committee? Why hasn't Dr. Townsend himself been asked to appear and explain his plan?

The answer is very simple, even to the unthinking. The Townsend plans are a formidable force, politically. It is election year and members of the lower House must go before the people again to retain their seats. If the leaders of the OARP can be besmirched then the men who have fought the movement feel that they have destroyed confidence in them with the rank and file and have thus removed a menace to their re-election.

GIVE US LIGHT

Personally I have never written any briefs in defense of the Townsend plan. Frankly I do not know whether it is workable or not. On the other hand I would like to have that vital issue determined. There is no question but that a strong sentiment exists in this country for social security and that ultimately something must be done to rob old age of its terrors. The sop in that line thrown to those over 60 by the national government is nothing but an insult, and should be resented by every right-thinking man and woman. Lazarus, even, fared better with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table.

PRESSURE NEEDED

It is time that we condemn the scuttie-fish tactics now being indulged in by Congress. That body should not be allowed to play politics with human misery, and the sooner we are aware of the fact the sooner we will be getting some place with this important problem. The Townsend people themselves say they welcome any investigation that is directed at the soundness of their plan. Let's therefore force Congress to come out into the open and use that $50,000 for such a purpose, instead of mud-slinging, which has never yet conclusively demonstrated the right or wrong of any question.

Fruit Growers To Have Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13—UP—The regional office of the AAA today announced that 14 meetings of deciduous fruit growers will be held in northern California during the next two weeks to test grower sentiment on marketing agreements.

Separate agreements for all deciduous fruits except apples will be submitted. Two-thirds grower approval and one-half shipper approval is necessary before the agreement can go into effect.

er field headquarters of Emperor Haile Selassie. There was no resistance. It was rumored in diplomatic quarters that Duce has ordered Marshal Pietro Badoglio to advance on Addis Ababa, which many Italians believe will fall within two or three weeks.

4.—Diplomatic quarters in Rome learned that Mussolini hopes to force Haile Selassie to abdicate within a fortnight. Should he refuse the Italians would occupy Addis Ababa and after deposing the emperor establish a puppet government with his son, the Duke of Harrar, as ruler.

5.—Italian troops moved to the Sudanese frontier, occupying the Ethiopian custom post at Galiabat, from whence two major caravan routes into Ethiopia are controlled.

1000 Persons Attend Easter Sunrise Rites

More than 1000 persons attended the Easter sunrise services held Sunday morning atop Little Cerrito hill in South Richmond, under the auspices of the Richmond Ministerial Alliance, with Rev. J. Irving Rhoades in charge of arrangements assisted by Rodney Prestwood.

Rev. K. B. Wallace delivered the Easter message—"Easter's Victory Complete." Rev. Charles Thorman gave the invocation; scripture was read by Rev. F. H. Mokha; prayer was given by Rev. C. T. Harwell and Captain Lester Holmes pronounced the benediction. The ministerial quartette sang several selections and Rev. J. Chester White and Rev. O. A. Awerkam provided organ music. Rev. J. Irving Rhoades led community singing.

A Standard Off loudspeaker equipment enabled the large crowd to hear the services.

Boy Scouts, directed by Executive D. F. Seaman acted as ushers and local police directed traffic.

Transfer Funds For Payment Wharf Repairs

At the meeting of the council last evening, on the recommendation of City Manager J. A. McVittie, $14,000 was ordered transferred from the general fund to the harbor maintenance fund. This money will be used to pay for the contract awarded to the San Francisco Bridge Company for repair of the fender system and dolphins on Wharf No. 1. Noification of the completion of the work was given the council by City Engineer E. A. Hoffman.

BARNAMAN'S HALL

A letter was received from Viola Cox, secretary of the Central Labor Building Trade Council, stating that nothing had been done by the owner of Barnaman's hall to make it comply with the fire ordinances of the city, and claiming the structure was not safe for public meetings.

Building Inspector A. J. Hurley told the council no application for a permit to make alterations in the structure had been filed, and as the building was not being used for public meetings, there was nothing that could be done about the matter at this time.

LETTER OF THANKS

Clarence A. Bullwinkle, manager of the Ford Motor company branch in this city, expressed his thanks to the council, for the co-operation of the police department of Richmond during the open house week of the Ford company that was recently held.

NO CARGO UNLOADED

Longshoremen handled baggage and mail as 77 passengers left the ship. Approximately 100 remained aboard. No cargo, totaling 3000 tons with 1500 tons destined for Southern California ports, was unloaded as the longshoremen declined to penetrate the picket lines established by the Maritime Federation.

Employers met here late today in executive session to consider what action might be taken if the Federation pickets the ship in San Francisco. It was rumored that attorneys for the Grace Line, owners of the liner, planned a drastic court attack on the unions should she be tied up.

General Calles Will Visit East; Plans Vacation

SAN DIEGO, April 13—UP—Gov. Calles and a motor trip to visit Governor E. W. Marland of Oklahoma were uppermost tonight in the plans of General Plutarco Elias Calles, exiled former president of Mexico.

Calles, escorted from Mexico with three of his associates Friday upon orders from President Lazaro Cardenas, rested at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hortensia Torrenblanca, where he lived before his unexpected return to Mexico last December.

Comfortably seated in an overstuffed chair in the living room of the spacious, Spanish type dwelling, the general said he planned a short rest to recover fully from the strenuous airplane trip, then intended to accept Governor Marland's personal invitation to visit in Oklahoma, after which he would return to San Diego.

years each, and had just served a year and three months of his fourth term. His demise is a distinct loss to the community in which he has resided for so many years, and in which he took a very active part. His disposition was a most cheerful one, and during his term of office thousands went to him for advice and comfort, which was always cheerfully given.

NATIVE SON

Deceased was born in the town of Soquel, Santa Cruz county, where he spent his youthful days. His family later moved to Santa Cruz where he received his education. Later he took a commercial course at Cheshnutwood Business College of that city, and for years followed accounting as his business. For a long period of time he was head accountant of the Middleton Lumber Company at Boulder Creek, and in 1920 came to this county and located at San Pablo where he entered the real estate and insurance business. Later he was elected to the office of justice of the peace, in which position he served until his death, with honor to himself and credit to the constituency which he served.

Surviving him are a son, Lafayette Chace Grover, New York, who is now on his way to this city by airplane, and four sisters: Mrs. Maude L. Chandler of Berkeley; Mrs. C. L. Robbins of Santa Cruz; Mrs. Chester Robinson of Flagstaff, Arizona, and Mrs. G. E. Milnes of this city.

are in happiness and security. Then the President said:

"It seems reasonable... that industry can contribute in a great measure to the increase of employment if industry as a whole will undertake reasonable reductions of hours of work per week, while, at the same time, they keep the average individual's pay envelope at least as large as it is today."

STUDY WORK WEEK

The President said that because of practices of employment definitely affect the problem of unemployment, that the government must and will give consideration to:

- 1.—The length of the work week.
- 2.—The stability of employment on an annual basis.
- 3.—Payment of at least adequate minimum wages.

"A government doing that is a government that is working actively at the answers to your problems," the chief executive said.

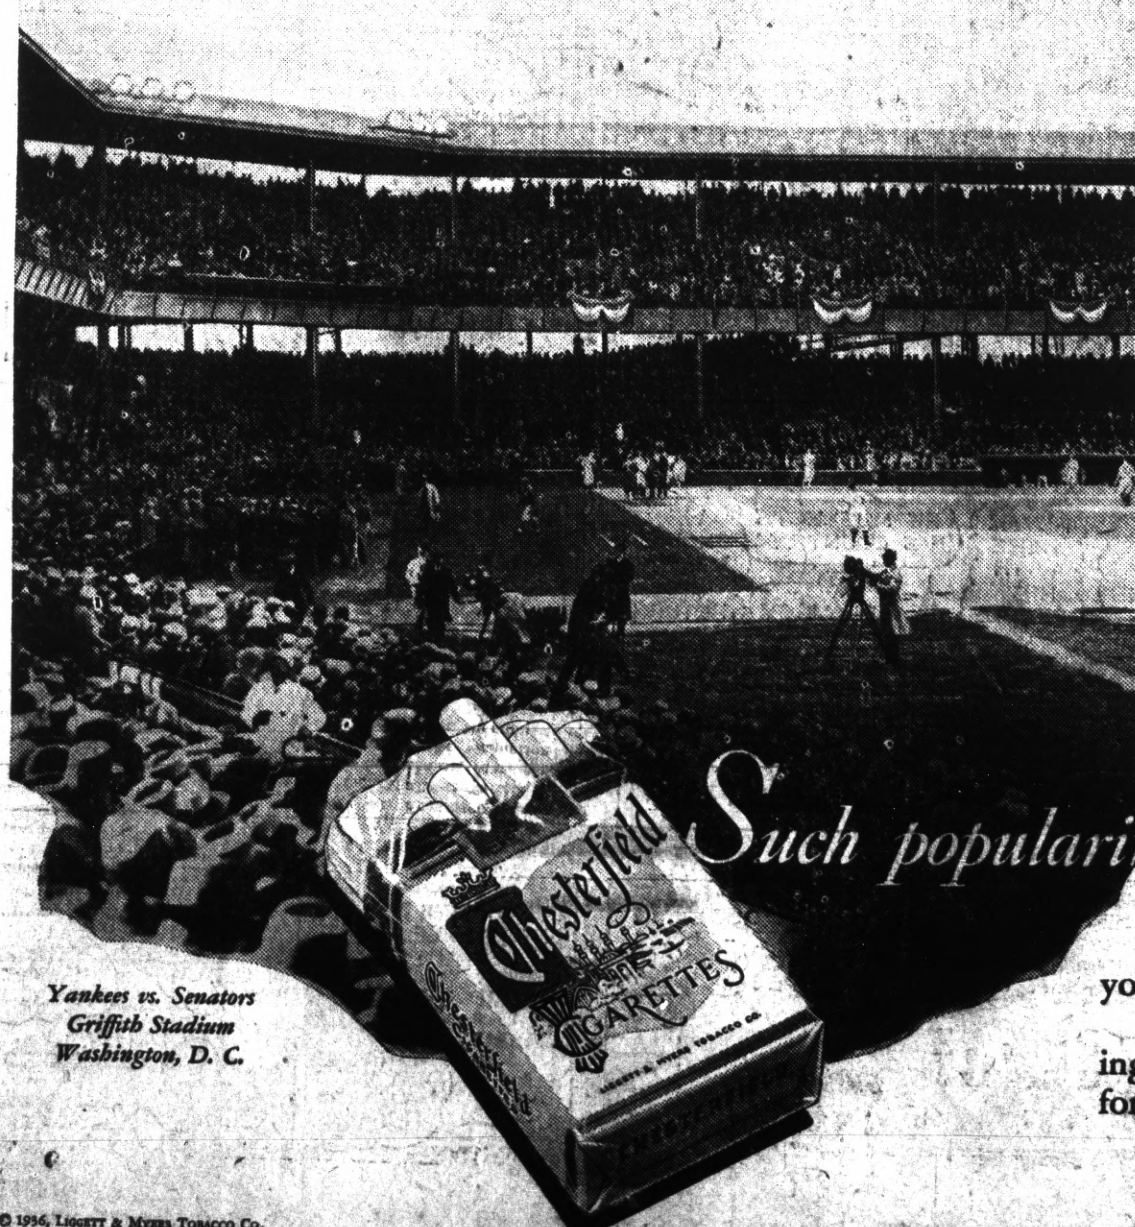

OPENED CAMPAIGN

Mr. Roosevelt's remarks were broadcast over a nationwide hookup. They were interpreted by political observers as an appeal for support of the nation's youth as the chief executive opens his pre-convention campaign for reelection. His observations and appearance also were calculated to solidify Maryland Democratic behind the administration in the fight ahead.
